

Rabbi Finds Palestine Jewry Aroused by Plan

Back From Study In Holy Land

Tens of Palestine are aroused over the planned British partition of that state. American Jews and other interested American factions are spurring Palestinians to a greater determination that Palestine shall retain its integrity as a Jewish state, the venerable scholar of Judaism said.

"Everywhere one goes in Palestine the topic of conversation is American and what Americans, non-Jewish Americans, are doing to establish on a foundation as solid as their country's own, a state that will endure as long as Judaism," Rabbi Rahinovitz declared.

GREETED BY THROGS

A crowd of more than 300, including the entire New England body of Orthodox rabbis, was at the South Station to greet the homecoming rabbi.

A motorcycle police detail escorted the reception party to the Tifereth Israel temple on Chambers street, West End, where Rabbi Rahinovitz was warmly greeted by members of the congregation that has known him for 43 years.

Through the combined efforts of more than 25 Jewish organizations and members of the Tifereth Israel congregation, Rabbi Rahinovitz was able to realize a life long ambition of visiting Palestine.

He has been absent for more than a year from his congregation conducting an intensive study in ancient and modern Judaism, and in that time he has been able to sound out the feelings of his people in Palestine in the greatest problem that has confronted them since the establishment of Palestine as a homeland for Jewry.

FETTERED IN NEW YORK

Rabbi Rahinovitz was fettered in New York and Springfield on his return to his home here. When he arrived in New York, he was met by a delegation of the Agudath Chabad, recognized as the most religious and learned body of rabbis in the world. They escorted him to his home, singing religious songs.

Following short religious services, a dinner reception was held at Tifereth Israel Synagogue.

A new residence has been provided for Rabbi Rahinovitz on Chambers street, not far from his beloved temple.

Court Gives All Wives New 'Magna Charta'

Sept. 1, 1937—A new bill at the State House today gave women the right to go and what she should do at what time she should return home.

A wife can go where she pleases, do as she pleases and come home when she pleases. No husband can buy a wife because she comes home late.

Heroine Back at Housework

Calmly sewing in her home as if nothing had happened, Mrs. Mary Santagata, 29, of Park street, Chelsea, is a real heroine. She rescued three-year-old Robert Truener, Havre street, East Boston, from drowning at Wood Island Park, East Boston, and this was her second rescue. A few years ago she saved a girl from drowning at Parsons Beach, Chelsea. Little Robert is a lucky youngster. A week ago he was nearly run over by an auto and a few days ago he fell off a lumber pile, receiving only a bump on his head.

WELCOMED HOME BY DAUGHTER

Chelsea Woman Rescues Boy, 3, At Wood Island

Mrs. Mary Santagata of Park street, Chelsea, was a heroine today after her rescue of three-year-old Robert Truener from drowning in the ocean at Wood Island Park, East Boston.

Sitting on a hill above the water, Mrs. Santagata saw Robert chase a stick into the ocean and disappear. She sprang to the water's edge, leaped in and reached him as he was going down for the third time. Then she shook him into consciousness.

Bushold in Race For Connery Seat

Dr. Fred G. Bushold, Lawrence, filed nomination papers today as the National Union for Social Justice candidate for the congressional seat of the late William P. Connery, of Lynn.

Dr. Bushold was a Union party candidate for governor in the last state election. At that time, by polling 10 per cent of the total vote, the party became officially recognized.

SOVIET Leaders Put ON TRIAL

'TERRORISM' CHARGED TO 11

Moscow, Aug. 30 (INS)—The most sensational anti-Soviet plot since the arrest of Marshal Mikhail Tukhachevsky, formerly vice-commander for defense, was disclosed today with first news of the trial of eleven prominent Georgian leaders.

All are being tried, presumably at Tiflis, the Georgian capital, on charges of "counter-revolutionary, terrorist, wrecking and separatist activities."

The charges, according to the official charges, planned to stage a counter-revolutionary separatist Communist party leaders and state officials loyal to the Stalin regime and set up a capitalist state in Georgia.

Moved out for assassination was M. Beria, chief of the Communist party in Georgia.

While the proceedings of the trial were shrouded in all the secrecy common to Soviet prosecutions, news of the arrests and trial caused a profound sensation with appreciable reverberations expected.

Five leaders of the Komsomol, the Communist Youth League, more of them over 30 were arrested today while two women were who at Leningrad for poisoning 12 children at a children's home.

Dozens of other leaders of the Komsomol were charged and many were released for permitting drunken debauches and stirring anti-Soviet and anti-Communist propaganda through the organization.

Prompt treatment saved the lives of the poisoned children, ranging in age from eight to 11.

Talkie by Chaplin Result of Edict By Paulette

Los Angeles, Aug. 30 (AP)—Chaplin well started the studio's silence which has kept him from the silent film star in a world gone talkie.

For he will not portray the silent tramp with whom he has been identified since the inception of his film career. He feels that audiences have such a fixed conception of his film career that he has known been portrayed solely by means of pantomime. That it would be useless to put words into his mouth.

So for the first time Chaplin will appear without the world-famous bowler hat and baggy pants.

Chaplin hasn't made a picture since "Modern Times" released in February, 1936. Neither has Paulette Goddard, who played her first part in the picture, and who is the accompanist of much public fame.

Under contract to Chaplin, he has waited a year and a half for his return to the studio and starting vehicle for her.

Now, however, I hear she has delivered her ultimatum. Either Chaplin starts her picture by October 1, or she shall accept offers elsewhere.

Father Coughlin Sails for Europe

Quebec, Aug. 28 (Canadian Press)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit was aboard the Lord Dunsborough of Britain today for Europe.

It was reported that the pastor of the Little Flower Shrine in the Michigan city was taking the vacation for his health. He collapsed August 22 while conducting services.

West Kingston, R. I., Aug. 30 (AP)—Arthur W. Brown, one of the oldest students of Rhode Island College, died today at his home here.

He was the author of numerous monographs on characters and events in Rhode Island history.

Shirley in Hawaii

The picture little Shirley Temple, lovable child motion picture actress, is taking while she vacations in the Hawaiian Islands. Must be a good one, judging from the interest in the group around her. As shown above, Shirley is constantly surrounded by admiring little girls, who wish they were movie stars, too. The golden-haired sweetheart of the screen is spending the hot months on the islands with her mother and father.

Girl Pilot Crashes, Saved as Plane Burns

Newtown, Conn., Aug. 30 (AP)—Miss Kathryn Carberry, 24, of New York City, was pulled to safety from the blazing wreckage of her airplane today when it crashed and burst into flames as she tried to land here.

The girl was taken to nearby Fairfield state hospital suffering minor head injuries.

Cyclist, 84, Starts Home to Vermont

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—William C. Bailey, 84, climbed on a bicycle on front of his granddaughters' house today and started pedaling home to Underhill, Vt.

Six weeks ago the retired farmer rode a bike to visit Mrs. Helen Greenwood, 105 miles, and 14 traveling days out of Underhill.

On the return trip, Bailey said he would follow the road to Detroit, Southern Canada, Niagara Falls and Northern New York state.

He planned to stop for a week with relatives in Detroit.

CUBA Frees N. E. 'REBELS'

FIVE RETURN TO MAUGUA

Charges of fomenting rebellion brought against five New Englanders who landed in Cuba after spending five days at sea without food or water after fleeing a native uprising on Great Inagua Island have been dropped by authorities at Santiago. It was learned by reporters here today.

Redeigned and haggard the five men were taken into custody by Cuban police when they washed up on the shore, bearing arms but without food or cash.

Included in the group are Joseph and Douglas Bonfield, Swampscott, naval reservists; graduates of Harvard several years ago; and one of the Bonfields' sons, a student at the University of Chicago.

The other three are Alan G. Hovatt, Swampscott; Charles R. Fisher, Fitchburg; and Philip A. Smith, 24, of Portland, Me., graduate of Bowdoin College and business manager for the chemical company.

Their flight was made in a small boat. They had no money and no food.

Today they were being returned to the island under police guard, as usual, furnished by the British government.

Poor Fish! Can't Slip This Hook

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—The poor fish landed all these years by a hook and line, swimming in the sea, some days finding themselves in a swimming pool rather than in the sea.

W. L. Williams and Harry R. Brown and their simple device.

1. Snake fish and prevent from being caught by a hook and line.

2. Second the device, which is a long line that goes around the neck of the fish and is attached to a hook.

3. Let the fish swim in the water. The fish will swim in the water and the hook will be in the water.

4. Reduce fishing to the minimum. The fish will swim in the water and the hook will be in the water.

5. Let the fish swim in the water. The fish will swim in the water and the hook will be in the water.

6. Along comes Mr. Fish! He will swim in the water and the hook will be in the water.

7. The fish will swim in the water and the hook will be in the water.

8. The fish will swim in the water and the hook will be in the water.

Major General Frank R. McCoy, commanding the First Army, said down a heavy artillery attack along a front line from the Trenches view to the village.

This new $250,000.00 contest is Old Gold's response to the request of its thousands of friends among America's true contest lovers. Complying with the overwhelming demands of those who participated in its previous contest, Old Gold today announces an even greater contest, with bigger prizes, and an idea that is different and, if possible, even more fascinating than that of the last contest.

FRESH!

in ANY climate

You can't buy a stale Old Gold. That extra jacket of Cellophane brings you Old Gold's prize crop tobaccos in the pink of smoking condition.

THIS IS A SAMPLE CARTOON

(It is used only for the purpose of explaining how you can enter and win in this contest. Read explanation below.)

Now! Your Job is to Write Mary's Reply

Here is what you do in this contest. Just study the conversation in the cartoon, and then YOU! SUPPLY THE REPLY FOR THE EMPTY BALLOON.

For instance, in the SAMPLE cartoon above, Mary is being asked for advice.

Mary's reply might be:

"Old Golds. They hold their ash better. Nobody'll burn your tablecloth."

Or, Mary might say:

"Old Golds! Smokers seldom drop ashes when they smoke Old Golds."

Mary might say:

"Get Old Golds. They're always fresh. They'll please everybody."

There are so many things that Mary could reply that it seems almost needless to give any more examples. For instance, Mary might very well make any of the following three replies:

"My choice is Old Golds. They're always fresh, always Double-Mellow."

"Get Old Golds. Their double Cellophane package keeps them wonderfully fresh."

"Either buy several brands or get Old Golds. Old Golds please everybody."

There is nothing hard about this contest. Almost anybody can think of dozens of things that Mary would reply. And it's the same with all of the Official Cartoons in the contest. Just study the picture and the conversation and supply your own, original reply for the blank balloon. That's all there is to it.

Under each of the Official Cartoons you will find suggestions to help you write the missing conversation for the empty balloon.

Here's How You Win!

THIS NEW contest starts today.

In this new contest, you may win $100,000.00 as First Prize, $50,000.00 as Second Prize and $25,000.00 as Third Prize, or any other of a thousand cash awards.

The sample cartoon printed at the left will give you the idea of this contest. It will show you what to do to win.

You'll note that the girl at the left in the cartoon is saying, "Say, Mary, I wonder what kind of cigarettes I should serve at my bridge party?" Then you'll notice that the balloon for the other girl's reply is blank.

The idea of the contest is for you to supply the reply, or remark; in other words, the missing conversation for the balloon that is blank.

Anybody can think of an appropriate reply that Mary might make. If you'll read the explanation below the Sample Cartoon you'll find several different kinds of replies.

For example, Mary might say: "Either buy several brands or get Old Golds. Old Golds please everybody." Or, "Old Golds. Smokers seldom drop ashes when they smoke Old Golds."

Use your own judgment. Perhaps you'll consider a "wise crack" best. Perhaps you would prefer a simple, factual statement. Just supply the words you would consider most appropriate for the empty balloon.

NOW! You're Ready to Start!

Now, if you understand the general idea of supplying the statement for each empty balloon—you are ready to start. On the page at the right, you will find three official cartoons. For each cartoon, write a statement of not more than twelve words for the empty balloon. Write whatever statement you decide upon for each cartoon in the space provided on the official ENTRY FORM.

No tricks! No catches! NEATNESS DOES NOT COUNT IN THIS CONTEST! Before you enter this contest, read the rules and find out exactly what you are to do. Then, when you clearly understand the rules, submit your answers in accordance with them.

Send in Your Answers Each Week

Answers are to be submitted weekly in this contest. Each week for 15 weeks you send in your missing conversations for 3 cartoons. Fill in the missing conversations on the Answer Form. Do NOT SEND IN THE CARTOONS THEMSELVES.

The 3 cartoons of each week are known as a Series. The 1st Week's Series is printed on the page at the right. Mail your answers to this First Series any time between midnight and midnight of the coming Saturday night.

Just remember, submit your answers WEEKLY in this contest, sending in the Answer Form each week throughout the contest. This procedure is the same as in Old Gold's previous contest.

PROFIT SCORED BY VANDENBERG AS WAR CAUSE

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg urged America's war veterans to-day to insist upon immediate legislation to take the profits out of war.

"It may be hard on our cash registers but it will be easier on our sons," the Republican Senator from Michigan told delegates to the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Vandenberg said he sought "new rules which will take the dollar sign off our battle flags forever."

Exhorting his speech "Peace for America," Senator Vandenberg outlined a formula of "peace factors" which, he said, would not guarantee America against war but would "consistently reduce the degree of harm."

PEACE ON WAR LOANS

"We must have no potential military partnerships," he said. "We must be neither the world's policeman, nor the world's pawn."

"We cannot make fat loans to one or the other of belligerents and not ultimately feel the unequal drag of a proprietary interest in the success of whichever belligerent must win if we are to have (vainly) to get our money back."

"We cannot send commerce of any character through war zones to one or the other of belligerents' ports without inviting jeopardy because the ship that carries it must thus become a target of needful. If it is our ship, the incident immediately becomes our challenge."

"STOP WAR TRAVEL"

"We cannot expect American citizens who travel on belligerent ships to be immune to the dangers which automatically follow all belligerent ships. Whenever they load their guns going into danger, it is the inevitable psychology of the thing that they carry their country into precisely the same element of danger. Travelers, except in rare and unusual necessity, American citizens should be prohibited from traveling on belligerent ships."

Vandenberg urged legislation "to make the carrying of any future war. He called for an 'adequate, but not an exaggerated, national defense.'"

After 30 Years as Archbishop

Hundreds joined today at Holy Cross Cathedral in observance of Cardinal O'Connell's 30th anniversary as archbishop of Boston. The cardinal opened his anniversary day by pontificating at a solemn high mass. He is shown outside the cathedral. Left to right, Most Rev. Jeremiah Minihan, secretary to the cardinal; Cardinal O'Connell, and the Rev. Harry M. O'Connor, administrator of the Holy Cross cathedral.

CARDINAL GIVES THANKS FOR 30 HAPPY YEARS

"my work day and night—and I might say, during the past 30 years I have been living into the night. We have one of the largest dioceses in the country; it keeps me pretty busy."

"I am grateful to the public at large for their kindness and indulgence, and naturally I am happy at the thought that God has blessed me for my work."

THANKS PRESS, TOO

"It has been a great blessing to the nation, and a safeguard—the way in which the people of this community have held respect for the laws, despite the fact that there have been movements trying to undermine and uproot the principles of American government."

"At this time I also want to thank the press for the kindness it has shown me. My associations with the press have always been pleasant and my acquaintance with the leading officials in the journalistic world has been of the best. We are all good friends."

"As for myself, physically, I feel just as well today as I did 30 years ago. Even though I am 78 years of age, however, I am not feeling myself. At that age one has not the strength of youth, but one has the added experience to do God's work and be of service to community and nation."

BROTHER ATTENDS MASS

The Holy Cross Cathedral mass today was celebrated by the Rev. Harry M. O'Connor, with the Rev. William J. Foley as deacon, the Rev. Arthur W. Reilly as sub-deacon, the Rev. J. Joseph Lyons as master of ceremonies and the Rev. Mgr. Jeremiah Minihan as chaplain.

Among those present were the Cardinal's brother, Joseph O'Connell, former superintendent of Holy Cross cemetery, Malden, and their niece, Mrs. Paul G. Kelle, wife of the state public safety commissioner.

For the rest of today, following the mass, Cardinal O'Connell planned business as usual in the performing of diocesan duties.

YOUTH DYING, 5 HURT IN AUTO CRASH, PLUNGE

Six persons, including four women, were injured today, one critically, when they were hurled out of two machines which collided and catapulted over a 20-foot embankment on the highway between Lawrence and Middleton.

In Salem Hospital, Arthur LaPointe, 18, of Leavitt street, Salem, was reported dying.

Other passengers in his car were his father, Ernest J. LaPointe, 31, and Mrs. Rosanna Gueret, 48, of North Main street, Middleton. They suffered fractured ankles.

The driver, Ernest E. LaPointe, 27, was uninjured.

In the other machine, Helen Nendick, 23, of Beckett street, Sylvia, Stirling, 24, of Daniel street, and Bertha Glazouka, 28, of Bentley street, all of Salem, suffered less serious injuries. The driver, Frank Johnson, 24, of Arbor street, Lynn, was uninjured.

Those hurt were taken to Hunt Memorial Hospital, Danvers.

As a result of automobile accidents over the weekend, six persons were dead and a score more seriously injured today.

Alarmed by the rising number of fatalities on the highways, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodhue issued a statement declaring a night-time speed limit of 45 miles an hour will go into effect during the fall and winter months.

He said that a violation of the ruling would bring a suspension of license of at least seven days.

Registerer Goodhue declared that this 45-mile-an-hour limit is the maximum, but it doesn't mean that a person has the right to go 45 miles an hour at any time and place.

"Regarding the suspension of licenses, there will be no fixing and there will be no sympathy. This great increase in night-time deaths calls for drastic enforcement during the fall and winter nights. We must cut down speed. Too much speed on wet roads with insufficient or no lights means death."

3420 Killed By Autos In July

Nation's Traffic Toll Up 12 P. C.

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—A total of 3420 persons lost their lives on the nation's streets and highways during July, the National Safety Council reported today.

The data—160 more than in the same month last year—boosted the traffic toll 3 per cent for the month, and 12 per cent for the seven-month period. The gain, however, was counterbalanced, the council statisticians said, by a 12 per cent increase in the month's rainy mileage.

MILEAGE UP

The increased mileage reduced fatalities per 100,000,000 vehicle miles 7 per cent in July compared to July, 1936.

Of the 43 states reporting in the council survey, 11 got traffic deaths from 1 to 20 per cent. Kansas reported the greatest reduction, while Maine was second with a 35 per cent drop.

New York's death toll topped Chicago's for the first time this year, the survey showed, as it reported 452 deaths for the year—more than any other city. Chicago was second with 438.

N. Y. "SAFEST"

On the basis of deaths per 100,000 population, however, New York led with the lowest rate, 10.8 compared to the 17.7 rate of all reporting cities.

Other leaders in the 50,000 population or over group were: Milwaukee, 11.4; Boston, 11.3; Philadelphia, 14.8; and Pittsburgh, 14.9.

Other leaders in the 25,000 population or over group were: Milwaukee, 11.4; Boston, 11.3; Philadelphia, 14.8; and Pittsburgh, 14.9.

MARTIN LEADS UAW WAR ON FORD

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—United Automobile Workers of America with President Homer Martin announced today that after a bitter factional struggle, set the course today toward organizing Ford Motor company rivalry in a convention week of caucusing, parliamentary battles and demonstrations, the progressive forces were conceded the balance of power last night on the important executive board.

As more than 100 weary delegates headed homeward, the executive board was manned by 15 reported progressive laborers and eight anti-Fordists with the last seat still in doubt.

Martin continued the old board 10 to 5. No official announcement of the factional alignments of the 24 commissioners was made.

Selection of Toledo, Ohio, as the 1939 convention city and the rush to adjournment followed a day during which embittered delegates fought over seating of eight Ford "Mich." representatives, whose seven board members were the center of the struggle for balance of power.

A. F. L. Door Open To Lewis Reunion

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 30 (AP)—American Federation of Labor leaders have decided informally to leave the door open for a reunion with John L. Lewis CIO.

This was learned today in well-attended quarters where the Federation's executive council started the second week of its session today.

Council members decided informally not to expel 10 CIO unions they suspended last December, it is asserted in a demand from a few unions that they sever the ties with Lewis and the A. F. of L.

Those council members who were leery, felt there was no use leaving the door as long as there was any chance of a reunion. Some of them felt that the Lewis revolt was part of a phase in the development of the American labor movement and that, some time, somehow, the movement would be reunited.

LEGLESS SWIMMER BREAKS RECORDS

ENDS Albany to N.Y. SWIM

KEY WEST TO HAVANA NEXT

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Charley Zimny, 43-year-old legless swimmer, claimed today to have bettered every long distance, non-stop and endurance swimming record in the books after paddling 145 miles from Albany to New York in 147 hours and 37 minutes.

Wearily but grinning as hands were wiped from him by a heavy protective covering of grease and a few barbers collected during his long journey, he announced:

"My next hop will be from Key West to Havana."

He said the non-stop ocean swim—about 85 miles—would be attempted in November or December. Zimny, some 37 pounds lighter than when he entered the Hudson river at Albany last Monday at 3:30 p. m. (E. S. T.), swam past a sign on the 12th street pier at 8:45 a. m.

TOWED TO GOAL. Powered by a handful of raw chicken and a can of cognac, Zimny, who had a few more miles to go before reaching the goal, was towed to the goal by a small boat. The daily swimmer who paddled the first 100 miles for the first 100 miles—Zimny—was towed to the goal by a small boat.

Get your nickels ready, folks. It looks like another subway series.

With only one thing and another, those Redding Giants seemed headed today for another of their acts in baseball.

They will play with the Yankees in a four-game series at Yankee Stadium.

It is a series that will be played in four games.

The first game will be played on Tuesday.

Depper Dan MacFayden is promised back in the 'Beet' box tomorrow when Cincinnati's reeling Reds invade the Hive.

The "Ironhorse" too, broken just a week ago today, is still bandaged.

Romance, Drama and the Life of Andrew W. Mellon

Here is the second chapter of a graphic life story of Andrew W. Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury, once ambassador to the Court of St. James and one of the great financiers of the world. The first chapter appeared in the Sunday Advertiser.

George Rothblatt, noted columnist for the Hearst newspapers, enjoyed a close personal acquaintance with Mr. Mellon. He began when the latter entered President Harding's cabinet in 1921.

CHAPTER TWO

By GEORGE ROTHBLATT BROWN

Copyright, 1937, by Boston Evening American

When Andrew W. Mellon returned from Europe in 1880, it was to be acknowledged as the head of the banking family, and that head he remained, through stormy weather and fair, to the close of his long and honorable career in the service of the people and the nation.

He was on the threshold of brilliant achievement and success, but the shadow of an overwhelming tragedy was to put a damper on the life of the young man. The handsome eyes the haunting mystery of a smile never to be effaced.

The eyes of Andrew W. Mellon were the despair of artists who sought to penetrate their secret and put it upon canvas. None could succeed.

Some have referred to them, callously or ignorantly, as icy, cold blue eyes. As a matter of fact, his eyes were as understandable as the smile of Mona Lisa. There was a faint, faintly, but a physical characteristic. There was a brooding quality.

His eyes were almost, almost, which defied analysis. The eyes of a dreamer of dreams, a man who walked with the unknown.

BORROW IN LOVE
Henry Clay Frick was to have been Andrew's "best man" at his wedding in the spring of 1882.

Andrew looked for the happy day to come to his friend Clay. But the wedding never occurred. Young Mellon had fallen deeply in love with a young lady of good family and became engaged to her.

Delicate in health, her decline became rapid, and in less than a year she had passed into the beyond. Andrew Mellon, something gone out of life that he was never to grasp again save in the communion of his own soul.

He turned to the distractions of business, and the development of the community in which he lived, and on which he poured out the lavas and basaltic affection of devoted father.

The same tragedy had befallen Andrew W. Mellon. Andrew W. Mellon, who had been struck by the same lightning which had struck his brother Abraham Lincoln when he lost Ann Rutledge.

Lincoln emerged from that sorrow of heart with every person strengthened for the ordeals that were to come. Similarly, Andrew Mellon emerged from the same experience seems to have been a stronger man.

A boy in everything save the maturity of his mind, he found himself the head and prop of the family fortunes at a moment when a completely new era was opening.

One of our readers inquires: "What is the best breed of dog?" Well, of course, it all depends on the purpose of the dog. If you want a dog to guard your house, a bulldog is the best.

Brother George, the baby of the family, was of very frugal build. The victim of his dog was then called "consumption." Richard Mellon took him to Bismarck, out in the Dakotas, an incredible distance from their home.

Richard, then, came back home to Pittsburgh. Andrew and George joined forces. The family was united under a single banner, their partnership embracing not only the Mellon National Bank as it became, but every financial institution in the city.

Unlike as they were in physics and in habit, for neither was any and retiring, Richard more suited to the life of the business field. There was a unity of spirit, field, and vision, which constitutes one of the most remarkable features of this remarkable family.

The modern romance features such a remarkable family. Richard Mellon, a man of great vision, was a man of great vision. He was a man of great vision.

HONEY EXPLAINS SLUMP

New York, Aug. 30.—Last week, the composite stock market averages lost between three and four points. At the end, they had given up about 60 percent of the June-July recovery. Bonds reached the lowest level since the June bottom.

It now seems fairly clear that the "gap" in the averages that were made in July were not of the final "break-away" variety. At least, all the ground gained has now been retraced, and the gaps filled.

A week ago, it was probable that the market was not yet ready for a sustained advance. Since then it has been demonstrated that a reaction, that will leave the underpinning of the whole June-July recovery in the market is to be expected.

The present reaction began with technical factors, but it was touched off by an external war. The reaction then helped power to visualize the reality with regard to business and politics.

Money to EARLY Stock Gains U.S. From REDUCED DEALINGS Europe SLOW

Hub Wage Increase in BEST Tidings of Factors of Market Earnings WEEK Decline

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

The decision of the Federal Reserve Board to reduce discount rates in order to encourage the holding of bills and borrowing by member banks has had a rather unexpected result abroad according to London advices received by the financial press in New York.

The lowered money rate has been interpreted as a favorable indication for markets here and funds are being quickly shipped over for investment. The first time since last winter foreign buyers are showing a real interest in "Americans." The lack of interest in the months that intervened was variously attributed to intermittent war scares, warnings against inflation both here and in Europe, and decline in foreign markets that kept attention as well as funds at home. The change in attitude should prove to be a most welcome development. The New York market experienced a clearing house for world investment funds and an interest in American securities, absent, renewed or ended prices of listed stocks find their path to rising prices.

The outlook for the automobile industry is an intriguing subject at this time of year. Reports indicate a large part in the domestic economy reports of a new wave of expansion in the manufacturing area are naturally given a prominent place in forecasts on general business. First item of importance is that the big companies are not planning radical changes in designs. That means a reduction in cost of production and when the new models are introduced in the period of unfavorable market for better times.

The last big year from the viewpoint of motor stocks was 1936. Early this year new highs were reached in some directions but it took a tumble trade to step out of the time. And gains that were made are hardly worthwhile even in the long term, more so in the market investor. With the first shocks of its crash with organized labor out of the picture, with new models apparently under close control of the market, with uncertainty as to what the market investor. With the first shocks of its crash with organized labor out of the picture, with new models apparently under close control of the market, with uncertainty as to what the market investor.

The decline which began in the general market in mid-August is the first sign of a general market. On a break down basis the rally appears to have resumed last week to decline in a year, rising by a convincing amount. The Dow Jones index held within one point of its low closing. Investors are still wary, while their surprised many observers by sharply indicating in a short period that failed to carry the Dow Jones group to its peak. It is still early to attach great importance to such technical indications, but it is a fair amount of confidence in a market that has shown its resistance, even slightly, when the so-called danger levels are reached.

As for stocks to buy it is the old story with this writer. Buy the very best. Buy the high ones always have and always will, we think, first attract the bulk of buying. The reasons are the same. The people who usually have money to invest at such times are interested in the best. They do not represent a trading element but rather age profit over a period of months or years. In other words they are the folk of whom each man can get a lot.

Fall Outlook for Furniture Good

Despite a disappointing drop in sales from the high rate of the Winter and Spring, the Grand Rapids furniture industry is turning forward to a good Fall business. Furniture trade is expected to gain over southern competition, but not continue to grow. Summer, there is a general disposition to believe that Fall buying will show a resumption of the trend of Grand Rapids furniture that started two years ago.

DEALINGS SLOW

New York, Aug. 30.—Light buying served to tilt the stock market moderately firmer today, although bids were far from insistent in any department.

Dealings were exceptionally slow from the start. Early advances of fractions to a point or more were reduced later. Losses also were in evidence here and there.

Carrier bonds improved in the bond division. Cotton and grain futures slipped lower.

Stocks inclined to edge upward the greater part of the session. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, American Steel Foundries, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, The International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Electric Power & Light, American Locomotive, Libby-Owens-Frank Glass, and Reynolds slipped.

Metals such as Atacama, Kennecott and American Smelting and Refining, were attracted by the publication of reports of copper.

NEW FOOTPROOF SHIPS BUILT FOR SHIPWRECKED

By EUGENE KELLY
International News Service Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 30 (INS)—Ships built through government subsidies will be fireproof and footproof. Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy, of the U. S. Maritime Commission, announced today in describing a stiff four-point program for shipbuilders seeking government aid.

In announcing the government's latest move for a modern merchant marine, Kennedy emphasized the need of national defense features on all ships erected with the aid of federal funds.

Ships must be so constructed as to be "suitable for the mounting of such guns as may be specified by the Navy Department," Kennedy declared.

"Number one requirement of the commission in approving applications for construction subsidies or financial aid will be that new ships, regardless of type and of service for which they are intended, must be built to conform to the safety standards established by the report of the Senate Select Committee on Commerce, recently declared.

"I am confident that under these standards," he added, "will be fireproof, and footproof as respects as safe and footproof as modern engineering science and skill can provide."

The special Senate committee was a safety new committee to investigate the Morro Castle and Mohawk disasters.

It was charged for participation in government subsidies, ship owners must make provision for fire and feed water sufficient to insure a cruising radius of not less than 100 miles.

All specifications must conform to requirements of the Maritime Commission and the U. S. Public Health Service, the chairman declared.

Guffey and Farley Time for Parley

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
Jim Farley perches on the pallid bust of Pauline in a bower to the house of Farley. Then the burden of his song is "Repraisals Nevermore."

That would be words and made for the farrow to punitive expeditions. Except for the fact that Guffey of Pennsylvania, moving a note on the bugle of revenge.

Guffey wants to savor the wounded, massacre the slain and hamstring the fleeing. His heart does not belong to mercy, any other pang of political agony.

Coulter's Farley and Guffey get together and talk it over. Or hook into his White House party and listen.

Film Director Foy, Wife Plan to Part

Hollywood, Aug. 30 (INS)—Two perfect temperaments were forced to admit today that they had reached the end of the road.

Edna Foy, film director, and Eleanor Bailey, film choreographer, have come to the parting of the ways.

They have discovered that too much attention can cause a rift to get on each other's nerves. That's what happened, Eleanor declared today.
